

Battlegroup 301 Incorporated - Renaissance & Transformation

EXO_3 - Stand on guard for Canada eh!

Oh Canada, We stand on guard for thee.

Oh Canada, We create jobs and growth for thee.

True patriot love, we buy, build, save and invest in Made in Canada...

otherwise there will be no true lasting wealth, no more really good jobs or anything left of Canada! What will we tell Her Majesty the Queen?

Hmmm, no work, no honey, no money, no country, no Queen...what about the worker bee eh?

OMG over 95% of what you see in stores is made somewhere else!

Are we so lazy we can't or will not make it ourselves?

Are we so poor we must defraud, plunder and enslave the planet?

No we are not lazy, bureaucracy, regulations and taxes are manageable, right?

Are we stupid? No, we have some of the greatest inventions, technology and products in the world. It must be good, foreigners spy on, steal and copy just about everything, including our money! Hell even retailers tell us they will get stuff offshore all the time, companies go offshore, and so does most of the money. We begin to see and believe that arrogance and contempt for the industrial class is at an all time high, after all what government agent says "buy made in Canada"? eh? what's that?

In case you didn't know, robots don't buy houses! Off course we could invest in a robot and machinery portfolio and not work, just have revenue and free time...Several hundred thousand college and university graduates wonder where the work has gone, most of them never read the label and almost all of them hardly ever see Made in Canada. How many will find the work in what they love the most or what they were educated for? Is it obsolete already? Tell us if you know, who will stand up for Canada, what kind of economic agenda is it really? Don't want to talk about protectionism eh, national economics or national security eh, that's too bad, you could be really good at it...oh yeah free trade is great too, especially if doesn't ruin our manufacturing economy...too late you say? You are in for a surprise...

Vision, resources, capability and co-operation is useful in economic systems. We all need profitable and enjoyable work, more opportunities to make life better now, today and in the future. To be pro-active and exercise initiative towards self-sufficiency and self-management is a good idea and this can be done in your own family, home life and to some extent, your business. We can choose that and make it happen and as a result enjoy the benefits from our decisions as we continue to excel in developing and expressing more of an extroverted nature, increased perspectives and capacity to reach out to others and society to improve the quality of life for all in as many ways as possible.

Some industry related solutions exist by simply doing more downstream processing, vertical, horizontal or omni-directional integration, developing more companies, technologies and products that will reducing our raw material exports and create and health and sustainable national market that Canadians can all benefit from, and that means jobs and growth.

Battlegroup 301 Incorporated - Renaissance & Transformation

A forward looking strategy can include a tune up of Canadian manufacturing, entrepreneurial capacity, R & D, logistics and more integrated ways of doing things, after all look at the statistics of where the vast majority of jobs are created, small business, creative idea transformation, enterprising individuals, people that like to innovate and invent, offer their personal touch and style in professional trade services.

More money can flow to small business endeavours in the various phases or stages of the business start up, growth, expansion and other inter-related cycles and portfolio diversification. At the same time, it is better to have the machinery in place and acceptable cost infrastructure, people with production, management and leadership capacity. A good strategy can include more shop classes and development of trades and apprentice programs, general and specific expertise, art, music, entertainment, design engineering and more. Naturally, infrastructure, transportation networks, a robust, dynamic and flexible construction, manufacturing, finance, investment and professional service industry is essential for all aspects of production and consumer markets.

Enhanced experimental research and development, innovation, invention and intellectual capital development and deployment, new product development and logistical capacity with dynamic service industries can be improved. More measurable and acceptable risk taking, education and skill development amplified with a industrious and inventive work ethic that can actually make things happen in a way that will make the bystanders and non-participants will wonder what happened. More people doing what they really want to and expressing their natural gifts, new talents, abilities and skills, it's simple. Of course we would like to make work sound more like fun, so it is much easier to promote doing what you want and like right?

Anyways, moving on to go big or go home, a more self sufficient economic system can include a more thoughtful and active strategic plan and action of nation building. This needs to start off involving asset development and deployment, this means generating real job and career creation, wealth producing power that translates into useful production enterprise, budgeting a surplus, generating increased savings and investment capacity and of course ensuring a sustainable environment for domestic industries and a more conscious community recognizing that advantage.

Additionally it is useful to have more free time, a step away from the overwhelming state of busyness, enabling optimized faculties for creative imagination developing ideas for enhanced productivity. This can be done by utilizing or benefiting from learning centres that excel in human resource development as well as jumping in with both feet whole heartedly at what you are doing and working to develop your full potential.

With a more open minded outlook, increased and improved forms of positive and constructive personal networks, with dynamic business combinations, empowered and dedicated people and companies influencing the flow of new wealth creation, totally ensuring the protection and preservation of private property, while considering our various rights and responsibilities we can continue to make real progress, real advance in building a more prosperous, fulfilling, challenging and rewarding quality of life. At the same time we can consider the ability to look after people and helping others to acquire or achieve what they want, increasing the quality of life with more co-operative co-creative projects, while enabling and allowing time for adventure, sports, leisure, recreation, family, friends, travel and all that good stuff. Lots, plenty, surplus, abundance, truckloads of it, give me some of that good stuff eh! That's more like it! Nothing quite like having some enthusiasm for something eh?

Battlegroup 301 Incorporated - Renaissance & Transformation

So if we exercise our brilliance and capacity for actions, we can make smart choices, decisive action, exercising boldness and courage. We can stay away from states of mediocrity, conformity, apathy, stagnation, procrastination, distraction or other super-imposed states. Being aware of the problems is naturally important, focusing on solutions are essential, only what we like and want-that's all that really matters! There is no sense in blaming anyone or anything (the victim-victimizer routine has run its course into oblivion), we each can take personal responsibility toward applying ourselves as part of the solution, invent your way! We are not trying, we are being and doing, experiencing the reality of our intentions and values, we live right now, we choose now, today, we accept to embrace change, make real measurable progress and vastly improve the quality of our lives and make Canada the land of opportunity unlike ever before, we can and we are. We definitely want an exciting country and life!

Now is the time for all good nationalists to come to the aid of their country.

Oh Canada, We stand on guard for thee...

We choose to accept our rights and responsibilities...it's that simple eh!

We have a right and responsibility to buy Made in Canada!